NEW YORK, February 24th, 1870.

Gold is selling at 116½ at the time of our writing, a decline of 6 per cent from the highest figure attained since our last monthly report; also a figure, which has not been touched within the last 7½ years. As for the causes leading to this decline, the primary one is, of course, the striking improvement in our National standing in general and credit in particular, at home and abroad, during the present administration. Secondary causes are—the late falling off in our imports against increased cotton exports; the steadily improved investment demand from abroad for American Government, State, railroad, and other securities; the large accumulation of gold in this market, where, from the above causes, the demand for shipments to Europe is rapidly falling off; finally reports from Washington of the Senate being opposed to further inflation of the currency, of the probability of the Funding Bill being passed, and of the Secretary's of the Treasury intention to increase his gold sales in March. The speculative combinations predominating in the Gold Exchange, manifesting also a "bearish" inclination, everything points to a still nearer approach to the "ultimatum desideratum," a speedy resumption of specie payment.

Governments, though sympathizing in the home market with the decline in gold, are steadied by their reported advance abroad. 62's having attained 90 in London and 95 in Frankfurt, which, considering the rate of exchange, is within 1 per cent of their par quotation in gold. In our own market, 81's are, to-day, selling at 1 per cent above par in gold.

The rest of the Stock markets are more or less demoralised by the rapid decline of the gold premium, which may lead to an abrupt bursting of some of those inflated bubbles, which for some time past have been the pet of unscrupulous cliques manipulating this market in the New York Exchange.

The reserves of the city banks available for loans have steadily fallen off during the present month. But as yet, the money market is abundantly supplied to meet all the demands on call, rates for which range from 5 to 6 per cent on Governments and mixed collaterals respectively. Time loans are less favored by lenders. For commercial paper rates are 6@7 per cent for prime acceptances, and 9@15 for inferior but saleable paper, according to time and grades.

Foreign Exchanges are, to-day, dull on the basis of for sterling 60 day's, commercial, 108½@108¾; for bankers', 108½@109; short sight, 109½@109¾.

On the 12th inst., the amount of circulation of National bank notes was $299,563,356. On the 1st of November, 1869, the legal tenders, &c., and fraction currency in circulation was $393,148,700, making a total of paper money of $692,712,056; and on the 21st inst., the House of Representatives voted to add to this amount of irredeemable paper currency $50,000,000, to relieve the farmers of the West. On the 19th inst., the banks of this city held in specie, bank notes, and legal tenders, $126,632,924, and of deposits, $221,188,682, and an excess of legal tenders over the reserve required to be kept by law of $32,851,106. The banks of Philadelphia and Boston have also, large surplus amounts on deposit. If money was needed at the West for legitimate business purposes, surely a portion of this large surplus would find its way there—for money, like water, ever finds its level. It will not be forced to any profit. If there are sections where more bank facilities are needed in the South and West, then amend the National bank law, so that banks may be organized and let the greenbacks be retired and National bank notes take their place.

The cure for the existing irregularities lies neither in inflation nor contraction, so far as either may be induced by any specific legislation for those purposes. The source of the evil is in the combined greenback and National bank note circulation being kept perpetually at the same amount, so that there is no contraction or expansion responsive to the changing requirements of business. Instead of this stereotyped uniformity, we need a condition of affairs which will insure expansion when business is active and the crops are being moved and which will produce contraction in seasons of quiet in business. The only natural arrangement for securing this elasticity is, first, in removing the existing restrictions upon the volume of bank circulation; and, second, in instituting regulations for enforcing the return of bank notes for redemption in periods of redundancy. The first of these provisions would allow of an expansion of currency adequate to any possible requirements of business; the second would prevent the issues from circulating beyond the period when the currency was required for legitimate business purposes; for banks holding the notes of other banks, in periods of ease, would send them home, so as to enable them to use their own circulation and to keep up the rate of interest. In no other possible way can we obviate the frequent recurrence of spasms of stringency, followed by a reaction to excessive ease; and bills for inflating or contracting the circulation only aggravate the evil results of these fluctuations, and divert the public mind from the natural remedy. If Congress will but allow of a self-regulation of the currency, the occasion for these mischievous tinkering expedients will cease forever.

Mr. Josiah Quincy writes to the Boston Advertiser advocating the introduction of the German system of Co-operative Savings Banks. These depend upon monthly deposits for their credit basis. The deposits cannot be less than five cents nor more than $200. They cannot be assigned, withdrawn or diminished except at the end of a financial year, after six months notice. Members are admitted by vote, and in case of failure they become liable for the indebtedness of the institution. The chances of failure, however, have been proved in Germany to be very small. Loans are made only to members. Each one is entitled to a loan equal to his contribution; larger loans must generally be well secured. After paying or deducting the interest on loans and deposits, the balance, which, in Germany, averages 12 per cent per annum, is divided among the members in proportion to the amount of their contributions. The first of these institutions was established 20 years ago by H. Schulze Delische.

In Virginia there are scandals concerning the manner in which the receivers of some old State banks have liquidated claims and wound up the affairs of the concerns. Some of the receivers are charged with having caused the notes to depreciate to a merely nominal value in the market, by representing that there were no assets and the day of settlement far off; then to have bought them up at two or three cents on the dollar, and to have drawn their pro rata dividends, which trebled and oftentimes quadrupled the cost of notes. One receiver is said to have made $150,000 this way; others to have made large sums; and few of them have given entire satisfaction to all interested.

A counterfeit fifteen dollar coupon of the loan of July 17, 1861, was detected at the United States Sub-Treasury office in Boston, recently.

Gen. Spinner, U. S. Treasurer, has begun a new system of redeeming the old issues of greenbacks and currency, or of dilapidated notes or bonds of any description, at the various Sub-Treasuries and national repositories throughout the country. It has been the practice to count and redeem all the money, and then transmit it to the Treasurer's office here. Now the Sub-Treasurers and other accounting officers receive it in bundles, give a conditional receipt for it, and send it to Washington for examination and count. If the package is correct in amount, and the notes are all genuine, the conditional receipt is cashed. If the count is short, and there are counterfeits in the package, the amount is deducted from the receipt.

Work in the office of the Comptroller of the Currency, at Washington, has increased considerably within a few months, particularly in the redemption division of that bureau, owing to the rapidity with which national bank notes which have been worn out and become mutilated by constant use, are being sent to the department for redemption. Frequently a hundred packages of mutilated notes are received daily at this office.

COUNTERFEIT 5 CENT COIN.

Some months ago the Sub-Treasury in this city began to redeem the five cent nickel coin. The banks poured them in at the rate of several hundred dollars a day. The coins were received in fifty dollar bags, and were counted by various clerks in the Sub-Treasury. Some weeks ago Mr. John O. Johnson, one of the keenest clerks employed by Assistant Treasurer Folger, while counting a bag of this coin, noticed several suspicious pieces of a peculiar color and slightly differing in general appearance from the others. There seemed to be no particular points of difference, but Mr. Johnson thought he had handled too many five cent pieces to be mistaken. He threw out a dozen of the coins, and called Mr. Folger's attention to them.

Mr. Johnson told Mr. Folger that he was confident they were counterfeit, and Mr. Folger agreed with him. The oldest and most experienced clerks, however, seemed to think they were genuine. The die was so well executed, and the alloy was so skillfully made that it was impossible to decide whether they were genuine or counterfeit. At the suggestion of Mr. Folger, Mr. Johnson sent four of the spurious coins to the United States Mint at Philadelphia. The following letter was received from the Director of the Mint.

OFFICE OF THE U. S. MINT,
PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 7, 1870. }

DEAR SIR: Your letter of the 31st ultimo enclosing eight five cent coins, received at the U. S. Treasury, and requesting information as to their genuineness, has been received. After personal examination I submitted the coins to our Assayer for a definite assay and report. I herewith enclose the report of Mr. Eckfeldt, the Assayer, which confirms the judgment I had formed of the coins. Four are genuine and four are counterfeit. In addition to what Mr. Eckfeldt has said, I may say, as a further test, you will find the motto "In God we trust," a good deal LARGER in the counterfeit than in the genuine. The yellow color of the counterfeit will also afford some test, &c. This appearance is caused by the presence of zinc, which is not in the genuine. I have retained one of the counterfeits. The other coins are returned herewith. Yours truly,

JAMES POLLOCK, Director.

To JOHN O. JOHNSON,
U. S. Treasury, New York.

THE ASSAYER'S REPORT.
MINT OF THE UNITED STATES,
Philadelphia, Feb. 5, 1870. }

HON. JAMES POLLOCK, Director, &c., &c.:
DEAR SIR: The five cent nickel copper pieces sent by Mr. Johnson of the United States Treasury at New York, have given occasion to an interesting and important examination—the first of the kind that we have been called on to make. Hitherto the counterfeits of this coin have usually been casts; but we here have a COINAGE, with dies.

There were eight pieces. At first sight the general appearance, as to engraving and color, led to the belief that four were genuine and four counterfeit; which, on further trial, proved to be the fact. Our most ready test with all kinds of coin, is the WEIGHT, which counterfeits can seldom bring out right.

The true weight is 77 1-6 grains. Three of the pieces were grossly in error, being under 70 grains; a fourth suspected piece happened to be just right. This last piece was subjected to assay, and proved to contain 14 per cent nickel instead of 25, the lawful proportion. It also contains a large proportion of zinc, making in fact, the usual "German silver." The dies were the same as in the other three, except the date, 1869, the others being 1868 and 1867. All of these four pieces have a yellowish tint, and the engraving is false and coarse, but not sufficiently so to be detected by a hasty inspection. On the whole, it is a dangerous issue, and proves that, with more skill in engraving and alloying, great frauds could be practised.

The genuine pieces were close to the legal weight. In this respect we have always found an admirable conformity of our five cent piece as often as we had occasion to try it.

The specific gravity of the good pieces is 8.98, or might be called 9; of the bad pieces, 8.72, which, in the hands of a careful weigher, would be a sure and conclusive test. The pieces, except the one assayed, are returned.

Respectfully, yours, &c.,
J. R. ECKFELDT, Assayer.

The report at the Sub-Treasury is, that over twenty out of every hundred of the five cent nickel coins received there are counterfeits. This fact will give the public some idea of their immense circulation.

Counterfeit Tobacco Stamps.

The points of difference between the counterfeit and the genuine stamp are so marked as to be easily detected by the glass. They are as follows:

FIRST; The imprint in the counterfeit is badly engraved, and a trifle larger than the genuine. The words "Continental Bank Note Co., New York," in the genuine are small, distinct, and not connected, each letter standing separate, while in the counterfeit the letters are heavier, and more crowded, larger, and closer together, and in the word "Continental" the "l" joins the "n," making the "l" and "n" look like an "m," with a period at the end of the imprint in the counterfeit, which is omitted in the genuine.

SECOND; In the sky of the counterfeit, over the mane of the horse, will be observed four small dots; in the genuine the sky is made of straight lines.

THIRD; The ornamentations resembling small stars on each side of the vignette in the lathe work of the counterfeit look imperfect and blurred, while in the genuine they appear bright.

FOURTH; Over the white faced figure "6" on the left side of the stamp in the genuine is a small black figure, a part of the lathe work pattern which is wanting in the counterfeit, and the imitation lathe work of the counterfeit has a muddy appearance, while in the genuine the patterns are clear and distinct.

NEW COUNTERFEITS.

Every counterfeit that has ever been made has one or more mistakes in it. Our aim is to show what that mistake is.

50 CENT FRACTIONAL CURRENCY.
New Issue. A very good counterfeit. The portrait of Lincoln is coarser and darker than the genuine, and the lathe work in the centre of the die is also darker.

TRADESMEN'S NAT. BK, N. Y. CITY.
20s, imitation. The paper is rather poor, the shading irregular, and impression imperfect, but it is a very dangerous counterfeit. The words "New York," read "New York."

NATIONAL BANK OF THE COMMON-WEALTH, New York City.

10s, imitation. A very dangerous counterfeit. The face of the bill is well done, and the green ink on the back a good color. Observe the representation of De Soto on the back of the bill—the hind legs of his horse are quite indistinct—in genuine they are distinct and well defined. Signatures engraved. Look out for them.

MARKET NAT. BANK, N. Y. City
20s, imitation. Well done and very likely to deceive. The green ink is darker than on the genuine.

5s, GREENBACKS.
The green ornamental engraving, lengthwise of the bill, in the counterfeit, is of a paler color than in the genuine, and has a brighter look than the dark green of the original. Seen under the microscope the engraving is coarse, but to the naked eye the bills have a very good appearance.

10s GREENBACKS.
The engraving is coarse. The vignette of Lincoln is a very indifferent engraving, and the scroll work around the medallion is poorly imitated. Letter C, twenty-third series.

10s, GREENBACKS.
An excellent imitation of the genuine. Note the following discrepancies. In the genuine, the shading around the 10 in the medallion appears like a fine net work, and runs close up to the figures. In the counterfeit, the shading is "picked up," and becomes coarser as it reaches the figures, forming a light streak or circular haze. Another test is on the figure 10 within the light circle. The genuine has three and one-third dots on the left on the fig. 10, while the counterfeit has but three. Thus:

GENUINE. COUNTERFEIT.

But the surest test is under the left wing of the eagle. The genuine has FOUR DISTINCT ROWS OF FEATHERS under the wing, while in the counterfeit the rows of feathers are undelined. One issue of this counterfeit is of the new series, letter D, No. 53; another is letter D, with a small 5 under the D, No. 23. These counterfeits are the best we have ever seen.

Newer issues have appeared lately, in which the defects above referred to have been corrected. We would advise our patrons to refuse all tens, greenbacks, unless they know the parties from whom they receive them.

20s, GREENBACKS.
A dangerous counterfeit. Green ink a good color, but the paper too yellow. Principal defect is the die. No clear and distinct lines around the 20. Looks more like a collection of several spots. Female well done, but the face rather coarser than the genuine.

50s, GREENBACKS.
Imitation. Observe the figures 50 on back of the bill around the margin. The 5 in the imitation runs into the 0 on the lower left corner, and reads 550 instead of 50. The buttons on Hamilton's vest which are very distinct in genuine are scarcely discernable in the counterfeit. Genuine has five white in the counterfeit you can hardly see four. The note is dated March 10th, 1863. We would advise our patrons to scrutinize carefully all $50 Treasury Notes, unless they know the parties from whom they receive them.

FRAUDULENT BANKS.

Lynn Park National Bank, N. Y. (No such bank.)

2s. Very well done.

Nat. Union Bank of Linderpark, N. Y.
2s, (NO SUCH BANK) well calculated to deceive.

National Bank of Idaho Territory.
10s. Well done.

National Bank of the State "IN" N. Y.
10s. Coarsely done.

Mechanics' National Bank of Jancsville, N. Y.—(NO SUCH BANK.)

10s. A very good looking bill—look out for them.

COUNTERFEIT GREENBACKS.

1s, (1st kind) can be readily detected by the inferior style of the engraving, particularly the head of Chase. This mouth is crooked, the eyes imperfect, and the hair on the top of the head resembles side hair brushed over to cover baldness. The back is of a lighter green than the genuine.

1s, (2d kind) the general appearance is very coarse and may readily be detected; green ink is very pale. On the imitation there is a BLACK STRAIGHT LINE under the red figures on the upper part of the bill; none in gen.

2s, imit., well executed. Coat of Hamilton badly done. The shirt bosom of Hamilton is very dark and uneven, but in the genuine white and plain. The shading of the words "UNITED STATES" light and broken.

5s, 10s, genuine notes without the red seal, and others reported without the usual number being printed upon them.

5s, imit., words "United States" heavily shaded. Gen. are clear, lightly shaded and plain. The words "Patented 30th June, 1867," under the words N. York are on the counterfeit bill. All the counterfeits are letter A, and are $\frac{1}{4}$ inch shorter than the genuine.

On the new series of letter "A," around the figure of Liberty on left end is a plain black line. On the counterfeits, this line along the bottom of the figure running towards the right of the note forms two distinct lines, on gen. only one. But this may be a counterfeiter's dodge to have it described and alter it afterwards.

5s, imit., this bill is well calculated to deceive, and the only difference we can detect is in the die on the right end enclosing the figure 5. The genuine has three black circles enclosing the 5. The imit. has only two, and on lower right end figure 8, and on left end series 90.

10s. Paper very light, and the green ink of a lighter shade. Dated March 10th, 1862.

10s alt'd from 1s, portrait of Chase on left.

10s imit. There are 16 small Xs on upper right margin, and only 15 on the genuine. The words "Printed by the National Bk Note Co." on lower left margin extends over 9 of the Xs on imit. and 8 on the genuine.

10s, imit., has 14 small x's on upper right margin—16 on left. The gen. has 15 x's each side of engraver's name. Portrait of Pres. Lincoln is very coarse and pale looking; imit. are dated Washington, March 19, 1862, letter C.

20s, very close imit. of gen., the engraving is good, in the center figure the foot of the female can scarcely be seen. On the left end bottom are the words "Payable at the Treasury of the U. S. at New York." The A's in payable are too small and uneven. The letter 'x' in the word 'The' is not crossed in the centre. The imprint is defective; the green ink is of too light a color.

50s, alt'd from 2s, portrait of Hamilton on left centre. The vignettes of the two-dollar and fifty-dollar Treasury note are the same. Ingenious persons are counterfeiting the body of the fifties and using the vignettes of the twos, producing a note that deceives experts.

50s, imit. observe the figures 50 on back of the bill around the margin, the 5 in the imit. runs into the 0, gen. does not. The word 'FIFTY' around the above 50 can scarcely be read. Words 'LEGAL TENDER' is very much blurred. Letter C dated March 8, '68. On the left lower corner the No. 550 instead of 50 enclosed in one circle.

50s, imit., observe the head of Hamilton, upon the face of the note, which represents the line of the waistcoat crossing the white collar at the neck. The acute angle formed by the shape of the collar, so far as it is shown, is perfect in the counterfeit note; but in the genuine the lines of the flesh were drawn by the engraver across the point of the collar at its junction with the waistcoat, for the purpose of relieving the angle of the sharpness it would otherwise have exhibited. This difference is not readily observed unless the notes are perfectly clean. The other discrepancy is in the shape of the ornaments in the border on each end of the face of the bills, and in the whole border on the back. The figures "50" are engraved on a green ground, of which the rim, in the genuine bill, is in octagonal form, rather well defined, though the angles are not sharp. The eight sides of what at first view appeared to be circles, may be easily discerned. In the counterfeit bill the border ornaments, containing the "50" are octagonal in only a very slight degree, and seem to be perfect circles. The general appearance of the counterfeit gives no indication of its true character.

100s, imit. the red figures are much larger than the figures of any Treasury Notes, the wings of the eagle are very coarse—the double rule running from it is heavier, and the curve twice as large, while there is a diagonal shading at the joint of the imprint with the rule, which does not appear on the genuine. On the right end of the back of the bill, the 100 in the circles are inverted, thus, 001. In the genuine this inversion is on the left end. The imprint, American Bank Note Co., is very uneven, and too large.

100s, imit., (2d kind) of the notes issued under the act of February, 1862, well executed. The spurious note is smaller, and the coloring on the back is paler than on the genuine bill. The words "one hundred dollars" on the right hand side of the counterfeit are smaller than on the genuine note.

100s, imit., (3d kind) the note is smaller than the genuine, the spread eagle is very coarse, and the shading of UNITED STATES is badly done. The bill is calculated to deceive.

COUNTERFEIT COUPONS.

The following are the words on the coupons: "Acts of July 17 and August 5, 1861. The United States of America will pay to bearer fifteen dollars for six months' interest due 1st January, 1867, upon bond No. 786, for $500. L. E. Chittenden, Register United States Treasury."

FIVE CENT COIN COUNTERFEITS Are in circulation. They may be distinguished from the genuine by the softness of the metal.

COUNTERFEIT

FRACTIONAL CURRENCY.

Old Issue.

50s, imit., the portraits of Washington differs one from another; in the genuine they are all alike; the green color looks light and pale.

25s, imit., well executed. Look out.

2d Issue.

10s, imitation. All gen. on the top has the word "Depositories," the imitation reads "Depositories."

50s, imit., have a pale slate color. The small barrels on lower right corner are very indistinct. The gen. have six barrels perfectly clear and plain. Three on lower row, two on next, and one on top. The counterfeit barrels are black, and gen. are white.

50s raised from 5s.

3d Issue.

50c. imit.; two kinds of the new long 50 cent currency. The imitation of one kind has DISIGNED on upper right corner instead of DESIGNED. The second kind has designated correctly spelt, but on the little American Shield, under the Eagle, there is a black line drawn across the upright bars of the Shield. Not so on the genuine.

25s, imit., are very pale and coarse. The letter C in cents on left end is smaller than the other letters, and too far off.

New Issue.

25, imitation. Above the words "Treasury Department," on the bottom of the bill in the genuine there is a fine dotted line—the counterfeits have a straight line.

Notice the shading of the "25" on the back of the note. The genuine is dark, while the counterfeit is very pale, and very little darker than the other green. The word "of" on the face of the genuine appears thus—"of"—on the counterfeit "of."

25s, imit., well executed, but may be detected by the absence of a period (.) after the word Treasurer under Spinner's name; the work is better than any we have previously seen and liable to deceive unless carefully examined.

25s, well executed; head of Chittenden; where it reads "Furnished only by the Assistant Treasurers" the Assistant is spelt "Assistata." In the genuine the shading of the letter "E" in "Five" is unbroken, while the counterfeit has a little notch in it.

50s, well executed. The engraving on the face of the note is excellent. The adverse is slightly blurred. The notes are an eighth of an inch narrower than the genuine.

50s, the "y" in "Colby's" name crosses a line of the coat in the genuine, but not in the counterfeit.

50s, the line of stars on counterfeit between the figures "50" at the top and bottom of the back of the note have white centres, while the entire stars on genuine are in green. The reading in black on the genuine note clear and distinct, while on the counterfeit the bronze is printed on the black, the words "FIFTY CENTS" being almost obliterated.

50s, well done. The last "e" in the signature of F. E. Spinner is omitted in some, and the (.) after print. on one end, and the d. after March 30.

50s. New and dangerous counterfeits of the last issue of the fifty cent fractional currency notes, which bear upon their face the head of Treasurer Spinner, have been detected by the Treasury Department. It can be detected by the absence of a period (.) after the word print on the right end, and also under the letter "d" in "March 3d," on the left end. The paper is thicker than that of the genuine notes, and the general appearance is calculated to deceive unless closely inspected.

COUNTERFEIT 7.30 BONDS.

The seal is slightly larger than the genuine; the red ink with which it is stamped is a shade lighter, and the points projecting from the seal are blurred and a little longer than the genuine. The imprint at the bottom of the face of the bond is set different in the margin, there being more space given it than in the genuine. The borders of the coupon which are attached to the counterfeit bonds are larger, while the red figures are finer than in the genuine. The borders of the ornamental lathe work are blurred and somewhat indifferently executed. The figures denoting the bond are slightly uneven, while the blue ink in which they are printed is a duller blue and lacks the metallic glossy appearance of the genuine.

U. S. Pacific Railroad Currency 6s.—Dated Jan. 16th, 1865, and variously thereafter. These bonds are issued by the government under Acts of July 1st, 1862, and July 2d, 1864, to Companies receiving their charter from Congress, which gives them the right to construct railroads to and from the Pacific Coast, and on the completion of each twenty miles of track to receive at the rate of $16,000 to $32,000 or $48,000 per mile, according to the difficulty of constructing the same. They are payable thirty years from date of issue, and are registered in bonds of 1,000, $5,000, and $10,000. Amount issued up to Sept., '69.....$60,860,320

A counterfeit coupon for three dollars, purporting to belong to a one hundred dollar 5.20 bond, has been received at the Treasury Department, which had been sent from Germany to New York, cashed here and forwarded to Washington for collection. The counterfeit is a lithograph, and when compared with the genuine coupon it could be easily detected by the most inexperienced persons; as the execution is rough and inartistic, the paper thin and common, and a trifle shorter than the genuine coupon. It assumes to belong to the 5.20 of 1862, fourth series, and bore the stamp of some German house on the back, but too indistinctly to be deciphered fully.

10s. init. This is a dangerous counterfeit and very likely to deceive. On right end, female on a spread eagle; left end, Franklin drawing lightning from the clouds. The string which passes through the key looks as though broken off, and runs under the clouds instead of over, as in the genuine. The centre of the note looks very well. Above the title, the words "Auburn City" looks as if there was a black line drawn over the letters.
The back of the note is rather dark.

100s raised from 5s. The bank issues no notes above 20s. Easily detected by the 100 in the upper corners on the face of the note. The alterations are made by removing the color and printing in its place. The ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS after "will pay on demand," are unusually well put in. The green ink on the back is of a yellowish tinge.
